New Rent Bill Aims Blow At Black Markets

By FRANCIS M. LE MAY

Washington, March 30. (P)—Capitol Hill heard predictions today that the new rent control tender will set off a government crackdown on a rent "blackmarket."

President Truman was expected to sign, in plenty of time, the "home rule" legislation that continues rent controls for another 15 months.

Just two days before the present controls are set to die at midnight Thursday, congress late yesterday tossed the new compromise bill to the White House by overwhelming votes. Then:

Rep. Patman (D-Tex.) said it will mean a "rollback of illegal rents," as well as increased rents on some properties where landlords are not showing a profit. He said it will put an end to the rent "blackmarket" that Tighe Woods, rent administrator, reported to be growing throughout the country.

House Democratic leader McCormick (Mass.) said in his ## Arm France At Once, DeGaulle Urges U.S.

Rhine First Defense Line, General Declares

By JOSEPH E. DYNAN

Paris, March 30. (P)—Gen. Charles De Gaulle wants the United States to arm France at once as the principal defender of western Europe under the North Atlantic Pact.

Allied strategy designates the Rhine as the first line of defense against attack from the east, he told a news conference yesterday, but that line will be manned principally by Frenchmen, at least at the beginning if there is a fight.

It would be a grave mistake to designate Britain as west Europe's chief defender, the general asserted.

For one thing, he said, another conquest of France and bombardment and reversion to Hitlerism would destroy the country both morally and physically.

He demanded that the United States promptly make definite strategic commitments in the event of attack on west Europe, and stick to a schedule of arms shipments to the French.

Rather cryptically, and without further explanation, De Gaulle hailed the North Atlantic treaty as a stride toward a federation of Europe which might seek cooperation with Russia in unification of the continent, even if that might mean a change in the Russian regime. He did not explain how he thought such a change might come about.

German Unionists Travel To Inspect Plants in Michigan

Lansing, March 30. (P)—A delegation of nine German trades unionists from Berlin today were travelling in separate groups to Grand Rapids, Muskegon, Flint and other Michigan cities after a visit to the capital.

Touring the United States under the auspices of the CIO United Auto Workers, the group visited the legislature and Governor Williams yesterday.

During the House session, Gerhard Nuerenberg, a Berlin accountant, was invited to the rostrum. He thanked the representatives for their reception and urged them to work for world peace and understanding.

Visiting the governor briefly, the Germans discussed with him the differences between German and American labor laws.

The Germans just completed a three-week visit in Detroit.

Experts Coin Words Which Mean 'Bust'

By CHARLES MOLONY

Washington, March 30. (P)—Washington is having word trouble, mostly over what to say about business conditions.

Paul V. Bettens, executive director of the U. S. Conference of Mayors, predicted no major city will drop rent controls under the "home run" provisions of the bill, that allows states or localities to throw off the controls. (Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York has said he will not approve residential rent decontrol in that state without "clearest proof that controls are neither necessary nor desirable.")

Rep. Patman (D-Tex.) said it will mean a "rollback of illegal rents," as well as increased rents on some properties where landlords are not showing a profit. He said it will put an end to the rent "blackmarket" that Tighe Woods, rent administrator, reported to be growing throughout the country.

Lansing Patronage Battles May Echo In Spring Election

Democrat Revolt Gives Boost To GOP Stock

Lansing, March 30. (P)—The Senate and Governor Williams, panting after three fast rounds, sat back today and looked to see what effect their patronage battles may have had on Tuesday's spring election.

Legislative wheels in both House and Senate barely turned as top state officials stepped up campaigning for the election and the lawmakers stepped lightly for fear of a false move which might upset the voters.

The nine rebellious Democratic senators who defied Williams and his CIO backers indicated their patronage fight, for the moment at least, was closed and Williams gave no sign of wanting to go another round.

Republican senators appeared generally happy and convinced that the bad blood between Williams and his supposed followers had boosted G. O. P. election stock.

Williams said he had no candidates in mind for unemployment compensation director. Williams continued to insist they did too.

National Guard Armory Open For Inspection On Army Day Wednesday

Residents of Escanaba and vicinity will have their first opportunity to inspect the city's new National Guard armory on North 23rd street on Army day, Wednesday, April 6, when the Guard will hold open house and display its equipment as part of Escanaba's observance of Army day.

A major portion of the day's program will be the inspection of the new armory, which replaces the exhibition building at the U.P. state fairgrounds, used by the Escanaba National Guard since its organization in 1940.

Motion pictures will be shown free of charge during the evening, and the National Guard's vast amount of equipment, individual and crew-served weapons, field equipment and vehicles will be on display at the armory, which became the home of the Escanaba unit last March 1.

The national theme for Army day is unity, Major Alfred H. Reinbothe, officer in charge of the Escanaba Army and Air Force recruiting station, pointed out today. The recruiting office at 1215 Ludington street also will hold open house next Wednesday. Citizens are urged to visit the office and become familiar with the work of the Army.

Special window displays are being arranged for the recruiting office and the American Legion headquarters, and residents are urged by Irwin Peterson, chairman of Army day in Escanaba, to display flags next Wednesday and to visit the exhibits being especially arranged for them.

"Beyond the personal gratification that comes from service to the nation," Major Reinbothe said, "the Army today offers more of a challenge to ambitious young men and women than ever before. The chances for advancement are virtually unlimited. Many top-ranking generals today began their Army service as enlisted men."

The Army provides a wealth of opportunities for young men and women to continue their education. It operates the world's finest technical schools. On the cultural side, it maintains the United States Armed Forces Institute. Most schools recognize credits earned by off-duty study with this institute. Soldiers can earn as much as two years of college credits in this manner."

TIME OFF FOR HOUSEWIVES Hamburg, Germany (AP)—Hamburg housewives who also get out to work are to have a day off a month to do their housework. The city council unanimously voted a bill giving them one full day off a month with pay if they worked at jobs for 48 hours a week.

Northern Students To Revive Musical Review April 28

"Northern Brightights," a musical review by students of Northern Michigan College of Education in Marquette, is being revived this year by members of the Tri Mu fraternity, of which Donald Swallender, Escanaba NMCE freshman, is a member.

Plans are now being completed for the "Brightights," first presented by Tri Mu men in 1936. The review is written, played and produced by the fraternity. According to advance notice, townspeople of Marquette, alumni and students are eagerly awaiting the revival.

Skits, blackouts, novelty numbers and individual acts will be featured in the show. The chorus line is claimed to be second to none, including the noted Radio City Hall "Rickettes."

Committees are busily at work on the show and the chorus is rehearsing daily. The show will be presented Thursday, April 28, in Marquette.

Other Tri Mu men working on the show include Arthur Allen of Manistique, Richard Beattie, Phil DeMares, Cliff Engman, George

DeMars, and WALTER WANGER.

DEFECT FOUND IN GENERATOR

Action On Turbine May Be Deferred

The City of Escanaba will probably defer the purchase of a new turbine for installation at the city steam plant for at least another year.

This was indicated at a discussion by councilmen following a disclosure that the electric generator purchased some time ago by the city is short-circuited and will require rebuilding at a cost that may vary from a low of $25,000 to a maximum of $7,000.

The turbine-generator was purchased at a cost of $35,000 upon recommendation of Laramore and Douglas, consulting engineers. The turbine, later shipped to the factory of the Worthington company in New Jersey, original manufacturers of the unit, was found to be defective and the Worthington company offered to provide the city a new unit at an installed price of $9,500.

It was believed then, however, that the generator was in usable condition. Monday the generator was given complete tests by a representative of the Chicago Electric company, a Mr. Heithu, who reported that there is a short in the stator portion of the generator.

Including transportation charges from the west coast to Escanaba and from Escanaba to New Jersey and other costs, the city now has about $11,000 in the turbine-generator which has been found to be not much more than a piece of junk. An additional outlay of $16,000 to $17,000, more or less, will be required to put the unit in first class working order. A complete new unit of similar capacity, however, is valued at about $50,000.

Rather than authorize an additional expenditure of this magnitude now, the council has informally decided to defer action for another year. In the interim, it will be determined whether the steam plant can subsequently be made to operate on a self-liquidating basis by the addition of the turbine-generator.

The matter will probably come up for formal consideration at the next meeting of the council on Thursday, April 7.

Small boats with outboard motors were used by Hemming Rockstad, Roy Mattson and Herb Hansen in an unsuccessful effort to locate and recover nets that had been set under the ice before the breakup.

SECURITY COST RUNNING HIGH

Railroad Retirement Plan Is Sample

By CLARKE BEACH
Washington, (P)—What would President Truman's social security proposals cost? Estimates are difficult, but there is in existence another government system that furnishes some clues for rough comparisons. It is the railroad retirement system.

Railroad workers' retirement and unemployment insurance systems provide all the benefits which the administration has proposed to extend to most of the rest of the workers. But the proposed social security taxes would be bargain prices compared to what the railroad people pay.

The administration plan is to raise social security taxes from the present one per cent of payroll to one and one-half per cent this July. The tax would be raised to two per cent on Jan. 1, 1950. As the tax is paid both by employer and employee, this would make the total tax at each rate two, three and four per cent. In the railroad business, both employee and management now pay a tax of six per cent of payroll, making a total of 12 per cent. In 1952, the tax will be boosted to 6½ per cent each.

The railroad men believe there will be plenty of money to pay the bills without additional taxes. They don't expect to ask the government for money. The government pays them nothing now except to keep war veterans' retirement credits equal to those who were not in the armed forces.

Why Taxes Are High

The social security plan, however, as now proposed, looks toward a time, in five to 10 years, when it will be necessary either to raise the social security taxes above two per cent or get a subsidy. One reason that railroad taxes are so high is that railroad workers with 30 years' service can retire with full annuity benefits, although the system has been in effect only 12 years. These workers get a lot more out of it than they put into it. The system took over the old railroad retirement plan, under which the railroad companies guaranteed pensions to 30-year men.

The Social Security system has a parallel problem. It is defined by the Advisory Council on Social Security, headed by Edward R. Stettinius, Jr.

"Under our recommendations, the full rate of benefits will be paid to those who retire during the first two or three decades of operation even though they pay only a fraction of the cost of their benefits."

"In social insurance systems, it would be inequitable to ask either employers or employees to finance the entire cost of liabilities arising primarily because the act had not been passed earlier than it was."

"Hence, it is desirable for the Federal Government, as sponsor of the program, to assume at least part of these accrued liabilities based on the prior service of early retirees. A government contribution would be a recognition of the interest of the nation as a whole in the welfare of the aged and the widows and children."

The proposed social security taxes would not be quite so low as they seem in comparison to the railroad retirement tax. They would be levied on wages up to $400 a month (compared to $250 a month under the present law.) The railroad retirement tax is levied on wages up to $300 a month. Benefits would be about equal. The maximum monthly benefit a railroad man and his family can draw is $144. The new Old Age and Survivors' Social Security Insurance maximum would be $150. (The present maximum for Social Security is $85.)

Rails' Have Advantage

A retired railroad employee, however, has one very substantial advantage over social security participants. If he wants to get a job paying any amount of money outside the railroad industry to supplement his retirement annuity, he can do so.

Under the proposed social security amendments, a retired person cannot earn more than $50 a month in employment of a type covered by old age insurance and still draw his retirement benefit. (At present he cannot earn more than $14.99 in covered employment).

The railroad and new social security plan would also provide disability insurance.

For the railroad folk, sickness and unemployment compensation is separate. Management foots the entire bill. Under the new social security law unemployment insurance would remain a state obligation. Sickness insurance, however, would be included under the new bill.

MSC NETTERS LOSE

Chapel Hill, N.C., March 30 (P)—The University of North Carolina tennis team dropped only one match to take its second straight victory from Michigan State yesterday, 8-1. Previously the Tar Heels blanked MSC 9-0.

IT WAS 'BRUTAL'

Chicago, March 30 (P)—Weather conditions in Southern California this spring, says General Manager Frank Lane of the Chicago White Sox, have been "brutal," and the Sox players, especially the pitchers are not in good shape.

BRIEFLY TOLD

Eggs and Tomatoes Tossed At Bevin By New York Pickets

New York, March 30 (P)—A group of volatile western European foreign ministers arrived today aboard the big liner Queen Mary to sign the North Atlantic Pact. A fellow traveler was Russian Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko, still saying "No."

Eggs and tomatoes were hurled from a crowd of 500 pickets at a car bearing British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin from the pier to Pennsylvania station where he board a train for Washington. He was one of four officials who will sign the pact there next week.

Three pickets were arrested in a push-and-pull scene with police. The pickets marched in noisy protest of Britain's policy toward Israel.

Gromyko, who arrived to attend the United Nations assembly, had "no prediction" on what would transpire there. He answered "no comment" to reporters' other questions.

Bank Vault Looted Of $690,000 Cash; Assistant Missing

New York, March 30 (P)—A branch bank vault has been stripped of $690,000 in cash and bonds and an alarm is out for an assistant manager who suddenly disappeared.

A 13-state grand larceny alarm was sent out yesterday for Richard H. Crowe, 41, a popular civic and charitable worker.

Crowe returned to work a week ago at the National City Bank's branch at 195 Broadway after being treated for a nervous breakdown.

The branch bank where Crowe was assistant manager is missing $190,000 in cash and $500,000 in bonds—some of them negotiable—police said.

Crowe's wife, Honore, reported him missing from their Staten Island home yesterday afternoon. They have three children.

Crowe did not report for work yesterday. The vault was found open and empty when the branch opened for business.

Sen. Taylor Fights Segregation Law Case In Alabama

Birmingham, Ala., March 30 (P)—U.S. Senator Glen Taylor (D-Ala.) was on hand today for a circuit court hearing of his appeal of a disorderly conduct conviction.

He said he would base his appeal on a contention that Birmingham's segregation laws are unconstitutional.

Taylor was arrested in Birmingham May 1. He was convicted in police court of disorderly conduct, resisting an officer and assault and battery.

The court fined him $50 and gave him a suspended sentence of 180 days in jail.

The Idaho senator had come here for a talk in connection with his campaign on the Progressive party ticket with Henry Wallace.

Patrolman W. W. Casey, who arrested him, testified Taylor attempted to force his way into a Negro meeting through a door marked for Negroes. The meeting was being held by the Southern Negro Youth Congress, which Taylor had been scheduled to address.

Babson Sees Minor 4-Year Recessions

Winter Haven, Fla., March 30 (P)—Economist Roger Babson predicts a minor recession from now until 1953, and offers this advice to business men:

Prepare for competition, buy on a hand-to-mouth basis, keep expenses down, keep out of debt, and store cash.

Babson told a civic club yesterday that the recession will be less severe than the one in the early thirties because there are too many cushions—subsidy pensions, government mortgages, high bank deposits, and rental ceilings.

Charlevoix County Proposes Tax To Build Court House

Charlevoix, Mich., March 30 (P)—Charlevoix county residents will vote April 4 on earmarking part of the county tax for the next 10 years for a sinking fund with which to finance construction of a new courthouse.

The present building was built 80 years ago as a town hall and village library. Estimated cost of a new building is $150,000.

Officers caught 18-year-old Richard W. Robertson yesterday as he fled from a Michigan bank branch with $1,742. He had threatened employees with a toy gun, they said.

Only two weeks previously a holdup man escaped from the same bank, at Grand River and McNichols, with $7,900. Since then an alarm had been installed. It was used to summon police yesterday.

When officers appeared, Robertson threw up his hands, shaking with fright.

He sheepishly explained that he wanted to get money to buy a car and slope. He is held for investigation of robbery armed.

HEARING APRIL 6

Lansing, March 30 (P)—The House Conservation committee today scheduled a public hearing for April 6 at 7:30 p.m. on a bill proposing to give the conservation department discretionary power to increase the kill of deer throughout the state.

Rock Man Held On Disorderly Charge

Alvin O. Eagle, of Rock, was arrested by local police early this morning on a disorderly conduct charge after he turned in a false fire alarm at a fire box near Vau's Store, North Escanaba. Police said that Eagle was intoxicated.

He was taken to the city jail but later was transferred to the county jail when he became violent.

first state patrolman who reached Canton. "It's ripped to bits."

The two dead were 12-year-old Larry Arnold, of Longdale, and Charles Stowers, 32, Canton.

Lights Knocked Out

Longdale was so badly hit that sheriff's deputies and patrolmen put up road blocks to keep the curious away and speed rescue work.

The Canton twister knocked out lights, power and telephones. All through the early morning hours rescue work went on in the fitful light of auto headlamps and flashlights.

Brick buildings as well as frame house went down in Canton like card-castles. The brick Mormon church and a brick warehouse were leveled.

"Longdale was almost blown away," said Nova Jean Schiska, 17-year-old telephone operator. "It came here with no warning—hardly any rain and hail. Just bang!"

First word of the Canton disaster was phoned to the Daily Oklahoman by R. H. Burnham, publisher of the Canton Record, over the only telephone line left to the town. The Associated Press relayed the call to the state highway patrol, the central disaster headquarters for Oklahoma, and aid was ordered to the scene.

Canton is 40 miles southwest of Woodward, Okla., where the worst tornado on record struck April 9, 1947, killing 106. Canton has escaped the twisters for 30 years, although they have hit all around.

The Blackwell blow was only glancing. It knocked down houses, a grade school and powerlines in the south part of town. There were five injured there. A report of another tornado at Medford, Okla., apparently was erroneous.

California Pilots Near Halfway Mark Of Endurance Goal

Miami, Fla., March 30 (P)—A pair of California pilots hope to reach the half-way mark in their goal to crack the world's endurance record at 5:44 p.m. (EST) today.

Bill Harris and Dick Riedel, both of Fullerton, Calif., have spent two weeks aloft in their Aeromica "Sunkist Lady" in the attempt to better the 726-hour endurance record set by two other Californians—Wes Carroll and Clyde Schleiper—in 1939.

Despite the cramped quarters, strict diet and constant drone of the single engine, both said they were feeling fine.

In an interview by two-way radio from the sister plane "Sunkist Lady's Maid," Barris said "this is just like a lazy sight seeing tour."

"I don't know how long we'll fly—we do know we'll stay up more than 30 days and six hours. That's the record."

"After refueling, we'll fly for the ocean and fly up and down the coastline. We've taken in the races a couple of times—from the air that is—at Gulfstream Park. We see the dog tracks at night and watch the people swimming."

"At 5:44 p.m. (EST) they will have logged 363 continuous hours. It is planned to end the test where it started—in Fullerton, Calif.

Traffic Deaths Still Increasing

THE automobile traffic accident report in Michigan for the year 1948, compiled by the Michigan State Police, should be a sobering influence on car drivers in the state. The report reveals, for instance, that even though the death rate was the lowest on record per 100 million miles of travel, the total number of deaths was the highest of any year since 1941.

Statistics make rather dull reading, it is true, but the statistics on car accidents are so staggering that they deserve the most careful consideration of every motorist. There were in Michigan last year 140,172 reported traffic accidents of which 1,324 were fatal accidents. There were 1,502 persons killed in traffic accidents and—hold on to your hat—40,892 persons injured.

To put it in another way, there were four persons killed and 112 injured, on an average, every day of the year in Michigan in 1948.

The only redeeming feature about the traffic accident report is the fact that the death rate of 7.86 per 100 million miles of travel is declining. The 1948 rate was 4% below the 1947 rate and 52% below the 1937 rate of 16.52, the highest ever recorded in this state.

Few will deny, however, that there is small consolation in these figures in view of the fact that more people, not less, are being slaughtered on our highways. The reason is simply that motorists are traveling more miles now than ever before in history. In Michigan last year estimated motor travel exceeded 19.1 billion miles, highest on record and 9% above the 1947 estimates.

The most unfortunate aspect of these grim figures is that they will not make sufficient impression upon a majority of motorists to cause them to slow down and to drive with more common sense. At least the experience of the past does not offer any hope that motorists will heed the lesson that these grim figures should teach.

When will motorists ever learn that an automobile is an instrument of tragedy as well as an instrument of joy?

Game Law Dispute Headed For Court

THE conservation law of Michigan which delegates greater authority to game wardens than is granted to policemen seeking a murderer is headed for a test before the state supreme court.

A municipal court judge in Lansing refused to issue a warrant against a Lansing man who declined to permit a conservation officer to search his game coat and his automobile. The conservation department has announced that it will appeal to the supreme court to require the issuance of the warrant.

Note particularly that the conservation department does not seek a search warrant, but rather a warrant for the man's arrest because he refused to permit a search of his property without a warrant.

It is well that this controversial conservation law be brought to the state's highest court for a ruling upon its constitutionality. We hope that the issue ultimately reaches the U. S. supreme court.

The specific law in dispute requires an applicant for hunting or fishing license to waive his constitutional rights regarding search and seizure as a prerequisite to obtaining such a license.

It should be apparent to anyone that this abuse of the licensing privilege, if carried further by power-hungry public administrators, could provide a means of establishing a virtual dictatorship in state government.

The constitutional privileges of the American people were granted to them irreversibly, except by actual repeal of the Bill of Rights. Any other device to usurp these rights is certainly unconstitutional.

Agreement Reached On Rent Control

WHETHER the rent control extension compromise accepted by the house and senate will result in fair treatment for landlords caught in the pinch of frozen rent ceilings will depend upon the manner in which the housing expediter interprets the law.

The compromise provides that landlords shall be guaranteed a "fair net operating income" but it fails to clarify the meaning of the term. That is left to the judgment of the housing expediter. The rent control law undoubtedly has worked hardships on some landlords in controlled areas.

The new agreement provides for decontrol by action of the state legislature or by local communities, but local units of government can decontrol rents in their jurisdictions only by the permission of the state governor.

Rent control under peacetime conditions constitutes an unusual problem for government. The principle is contrary to the American system of free enterprises and yet control in some areas is recognized as justifiable to prevent rent gouging and to forestall hardship. The public is where to draw the line.

The new law seems to be a sound step towards complete decontrol but no one who believes in the free enterprise system would defend rent control as a fixed, permanent policy of the United States government.

The new rent control law has no effect in this area inasmuch as federal rent control has not applied here for several years. The need for it is not apparent.

Why Not All Or None?

THE State Department has explained why it let some Communists enter this country to attend the Cultural and Scientific Conference for World Peace and at the same time barred others. We understand the explanation, but not the logic.

Russian, Polish, Czech, Romanian and Bulgarian delegates got visas, because they were official representatives of their governments. (The official delegation of Hungary, however, was barred. And a West African, who did not represent his government, obtained a visa.) Non-official Communists from France, Italy, England and Latin-America were not permitted to enter because of the law by which individuals who believe in the violent overthrow of this government can be kept out.

Thus it seems that the State Department was less concerned with the powerful governments dedicated to our destruction through revolution than with individuals who hold the same idea. Because a man is a citizen and representative of a government which would destroy us, he was admitted in the interest of free speech. But a man who is not such a citizen and representative, though his allegiance is the same, was barred as undesirable and dangerous.

Why not let them all in or keep them all out? We don't get it.

FRIED PARNSIPS

All things considered one is glad his peers have their definite, albeit peculiar opinions. It makes for animated discussion around the stove in the General Store. One thing can be said about parsnips without fear of contradiction. People either like them very much or else they are vehement in their denunciation of this amiable European biennial herb with large pinnate leaves, yellow blossoms and long, white, slender-tapered roots. It is distressful that certain opinionated, sophisticated folks turn their noses up at parsnips without trying them. Along in the fourth month when the frost is out of the ground, Pastinaca is excellent eating. People who try to eat parsnips in the fall before they have had their winter's freezing just do not comprehend the tangy, mouth-watering goodness of them.

Booled parsnips, doused with butter or margarine are very acceptable; parsnip stew is a delicious dish that too few ladies have in their recipe files. But for the quintessence of parsnip flavor the way to use this edible root is via the frying pan. First boil the parsnips until they are reasonably soft but not mushy. Then chill them completely. If you try to fry a slice of Pastinaca as soon as it is boiled you achieve only a modicum of the possible flavor. The slices must be exactly seven-sixteenths of an inch thick. Use plenty of grease in an old spider and start the panful on the second cover, with a moderate hickory and ash fire. Don't be in a hurry. Relax and corral some peace of mind as the slices slowly heat through. Then about 10 minutes before the men folks are due to come in from evening chores, put the spider over front cover and open the drafts wide to get a hot, snappy fire. Both sides of the slices should be crisp, crunchy and brown; the interior soft, hot and moist. Give a man about eight slices along with his fried potatoes, ham, biscuits, blackberry jelly and mince pie and he is bolstered sufficiently to turn on the radio to see what shenanigans the world is up to now.—By Haydn Pearson.

SPYING AND SELF-PRESERVATION

(The Kenosha News)

We in the United States have every reason to maintain an adequate espionage system. We believe that certain other nations may mean us harm. In this fast moving world it behoves us to know what other peoples are doing in politics, economics and science. It is questionable whether curiosity is sufficient cause for spying, but political and economic preservation certainly is.

MUSIC PLAYED EVERYWHERE

Here is a young man who has composed some of the most brilliant and exciting music of our time. The music of Shostakovich is played every day in this country and in almost every other country in the world.

Yet periodically the political bosses of the Soviet Union crack down, accusing him of political heresy in his music. According to those who have lived behind the iron curtain, this is torture for Shostakovich.

Some musicians and writers have become cynical under the Moscow whip. They shrug it off and promise to be good little boys. But not sensitive Shostakovich! He really believes he has betrayed a cause, and he suffers.

That seemed to me to be written in his face—in the tense, turned down mouth, in the restless movements of his thin artist's hands, in the way in which from time to time he glanced nervously at one or the other of the Russian delegation. Here was a man who lived under the shadow of a fear.

Another meeting in New York over the weekend was largely devoted to that fear. It was a meeting of protest called by Americans for Intellectual Freedom held in Freedom House, which is dedicated to the late Wendell Willkie. In a succeeding column I want to write about that other fear.

One thing both meetings agreed on, and that is that the world is a very sick place. It is sick with the spreading plague of fear. Every manifestation of that fear in this country is a sign of weakness. It is a sign that we do not trust our own strength and our own resolution for peace. Fear can bring the thing that people everywhere live in dread of—another war.

Fear Can Bring Another War

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

New York City.—If a master Communist planner had carefully worked out a way to get the utmost public attention for the Communist-dominated world peace conference held here over the weekend, he could not have improved on what actually happened. The supposed enemies of Communism took care of all that.

They picketed in noisy, marching crowds outside the Waldorf-Astoria hotel and Carnegie hall. They carried many banners and placards duly recorded by newsreel and television cameras.

Without all this voluntary advertising, it seems to me likely that the conference would have been almost ignored. Americans have learned enough in the past three years about Communist propaganda techniques not to be fooled by such a transparent device as the conference.

The very fact that a delegation from the Soviet Union, including such a showpiece as the composer, Dmitri Shostakovich, could come here was sufficient proof of the importance the Russians placed on the meeting. From almost everything that was said, and above all from the reception of the carefully handpicked audience, it was obvious that the immediate objective is a meeting between Truman and Stalin.

OPPOSE AMERICAN PROGRAM

Back of that objective is the aim of halting the program of the U. S. government for restoring the strength and independence of Western Europe. America has gradually come to accept world responsibility. That does not fit into the Soviet post-war plan. In fact, it cuts directly across the Russian goal of domination in Europe and Asia.

A Truman-Stalin peace conference, in a climate of opinion warmed up by Soviet sympathizers and the deep desire of almost all Americans for peace, could achieve a lot. At the very least it would put the U. S. in the role of rejecting Stalin's magnanimous offer of peace on Stalin's terms.

One disservice done by all the free advertising was to make it seem that we were really afraid to have these people speak their piece. The state department helped that impression along by its stupidity in refusing visas to some who wanted to come from Western Europe and South America.

It must have seemed to the visiting Russians that we were in a highly jittery and nervous state. As they were spirited in and out of the Waldorf while the marching pickets shouted, they must have felt that there were overtones of the same fear that obsesses their country.

Fear is like a spreading plague in the world today. It seemed to me to be deeply etched in the thin, taut face of Shostakovich as I watched him sitting on the platform during the interminable and repetitive speeches.

CRIME AND BOOKS

The younger generation, and the older, too, is constantly exposed to the excitement of crime and lawlessness through the medium of the printed word, and the movies, and the radio.

Never before in the history of the world has there been such an opportunity to convey crime stories to a palpitating public.

In the beginning of community life and crimes against society, the stories of great crimes were repeated in folk tales handed down from one generation to another.

Old Trapper Longs To Return To Trap Lines

By HERBERT LEBEAU

Carney, Mich.—Back of our farm there is a woven wire fence that stands ten feet high. The old timers say that it was built by Nadeau Brothers some thirty or forty years ago to keep the wolves away from their sheep. Besides the high fence they had a watchman stationed up in a shed with a rifle.

The watchman was Louie Schaefer, a native of France. It was said that Louie had been trained to shoot in the French army. The wolves had it easy with Louie, however, probably, because they worked at night. They killed many sheep without suffering a scratch.

There were at that time a few individuals in this community who could trap wolves. One of these was Delore Poquette sr. He had learned certain ways of tricking the wolf through experience, only, and he was secretive.

Enjoyed Trapping

In the springtime, after the camps had broken, Delore, like all trappers, took joy in treating traps and preparing scents for his summer sets. He would walk eagerly through familiar pastures where old bones had been scattered by new wolf families. He did not feel right unless he had a few traps set all the time.

One summer, when I was a boy, lightning struck one of my father's cows and we buried her under the tree where she fell. Soon afterward the wolves were so numerous around there that my brothers and I were afraid to get the cows in the pasture. My father told this to Delore.

Delore went to the pasture with one trap. Every morning, during the next five days, we saw him carrying a dead wolf on his back. He pulled out the trap after he had caught the mother wolf and her whole family.

Delore used to stun his trapped wolves with a club to avoid leaving the scent of gunpowder near his sets. Only once was he frightened by one extra large wolf that bounded in his direction, repeat edly. For a moment, the twanging and vibration of the trap chain made him uneasy.

Once, while setting a trap, Delore heard some faint whining in one direction, then more whining in other directions. As he straightened up to leave the place, the wolves broke out in a full howling demonstration all around him.

Delore climbed on a pine stump with his old shotgun. He counted seven wolves that were sneaking in the nearby bushes. But they didn't come within range of his gun. And after a while they left.

Delore also tells about the time that he got both hands caught in his own trap, how he sweated for a few minutes as he realized that he was miles from home and no one knew where to find him, in case he failed to return home. He finally managed to release one hand by sliding it out of his glove. The rest was easy.

Loses Eyesight

Today, Delore lives in Nadeau, but it matters little where he lives. His world is dark. For eight years he has been totally blind. Unlike some blind people, Delore has no hobby, such as fiddling or typewriting. It is clear that he is still a wolf trapper at heart. He waits patiently for visitors, especially those who can discuss wolf trapping. He listens attentively to anything that you have to say, but if he suspects that you are in the least interested in wolf trapping, he'll soon shift the subject in that direction.

He never abandons hope of regaining his eyesight, and if he ever sees again, the first thing he will do is to set a wolf trap.

Once, a rainy night was a source of joy to him. It meant that the human scent was being washed from his trap sets. The wolves were bolder and were more easily caught on rainy nights. Delore used to say. But today, the patter of rain merely awakens in him a cherished memory.

A man who has lived close to nature, he still listens to the rustle of leaves and to the songs of birds, but he can only see nature's beauty through his imagination. He longs to follow a lonely cattle trail, to be startled by the sound of a rattling trap chain, and there, perhaps, to see again the gray, shaggy form of a timber wolf stranded in the bushes.

The short-eared owl contradicts about every popular concept of owl traits and habits. It frequently hunts its prey in the broad daylight, almost never perches in a tree, and prefers open fields and marshlands to the woods.

SEEK TO CURB FREIGHT LOSS

Better Shipping Drive Planned By C&NW

In a large scale educational campaign on the prevention of damaged and lost freight, the Chicago and North Western Railway this week will launch a series of employee meetings at rail shipping points in seven states. This was announced today by

T. E. Adamson, freight claim agent of the railway, who said that railway representatives skilled in freight handling procedure will tour the system lines during "Perfect Shipping Month" in cooperation with the National Shippers' Advisory Boards.

Charts, slides, printed material and other visual aids will be used in the meetings which are designed to bring better understanding of methods of freight handling to employees working on each phase of handling shipments from the time they are received by the railroad until delivery.

Adamson pointed out that the rapidly increasing rate of dieselization of the North Western's freight service will result in improved freight schedules and better handling of shipments.

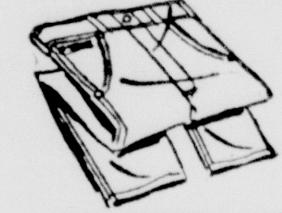

North Western officials who will participate in the meetings in addition to Adamson are A. M. Rieck, supervisor of loss and damage; and H. A. Wetter, freight service inspector.

A meeting will be held in a coach at Escanaba 10 a.m., Wednesday, April 20.

RURAL PHONE PLAN STUDIED

Co-op Power Line Use Is Considered

A plan for the joint use of the power lines of the Alger-Delta Co-op Electric association for telephone service in rural areas is being studied by the engineering department of the Bell Telephone company.

A Bell Telephone company engineer recently came from Detroit to confer with Wynand Nieuwenkamp of Gladstone, manager of the Alger-Delta co-op, regarding a joint use proposal made to the telephone company a couple years ago. Utilization of the power lines for the extension of telephone service to rural homes is suggested as a means of reducing installation costs.

The Bell Telephone company is now conducting a survey of Delta county to determine where rural service may be extended. Officials of the company will meet with the Delta County Planning committee sometime next month to present their findings.

Several rural communities have been clamoring for telephone service for some years. They include: Cornell, Bay de Noc, Ford River, Bark River, Rapid River, Nahma, Isabella and the Garden peninsula.

MIDDLE EAST, LECTURE THEME

Dr. Efimenco Describes Problem Of Peace

The Middle East as an area of Russian-American conflict was reviewed by Dr. Nicholas Efimenco, of the University of Michigan, in the second lecture in a series being presented in Escanaba by the University of Michigan extension service.

Dr. Efimenco declared that the Middle East constitutes the crossroads of the world, linking Europe with Asia. Further, it is the homeland of the three great religions—Christian, Jewish and Moslem.

The speaker emphasized that the independence of Greece, Turkey and Iran is necessary for U.S. security and world peace since these three countries comprise the passages for Russian expansion to the Mediterranean Sea and the Persian Gulf.

The three focal issues in the Middle East, Dr. Efimenco said, are control of the straits, oil resources and the problem of Palestine.

The University of Michigan lecturer reviewed the historic background of the Middle East as a prelude to understanding the focal points at issue today.

He emphasized that the policy of containment of Russian objectives, pursued by the British in their domination of the Middle East for many years, is now inherited by the United States. He predicted a Mediterranean al-

'Colorful Michigan' Winds Up Hiawathan Wildlife Lectures

Concluding the Hiawathan wildlife series of lectures at the junior high school last night Walter E. Hastings presented a thought provoking talk on conservation and two beautiful and unusual wildlife movies. His lecture was to one of the largest audiences of the series.

Bringing his audience, through his motion pictures, much closer to many live wild birds and animals than it is their good fortune to ever actually be, Hastings drew generous applause. Both lecture and pictures presented a story of contrast between "Audubon's Labrador" and Michigan.

The "Colorful Michigan" film with its beautiful scenery of the state and shots of many of its wild birds and animals was especially notable to the outdoorsman for its grouse, fox and bear sequences. The male ruffed grouse was shown at very close range while drumming, young foxes playing about their den and a big black bear put on a humorous performance.

Other lectures on the series which opened on December 1 were Tom and Arlene Hadley, Ben East, Arthur Sinclair and Walter P. Nickell. The University lance similar in scope to the projected North American alliance as well as a Marshall Plan for economic recovery of the Middle East.

American Steamship Line Builds Three New Luxury Liners

Camden, N. J., (AP) — Construction is underway on the first of three American luxury liners to be built for the American President Lines.

The keel of the $12,000,000 S.

President Jackson, first passenger liner to be built in the United States since the war, was laid Monday by the New York Shipbuilding Corp.

Keels of the other two will be laid later in the spring. Completion is scheduled for late in 1950.

The three ships will be revolutionary in design in that they will have no stacks. They will displace 19,000 tons, have a speed of 19 knots and carry 228 passengers.

ANNUAL MEAD REPORT ISSUED

Paper Corporation Has
7,500 Employees

Dayton, Ohio—The annual report of The Mead Corporation released today reported sales of $84,837,549 compared with $72,273,305 in 1947. Tonnage shipped increased from 522,508 tons in 1947 to 576,927.

The company reported that shipments, included for the first time products of Macon Kraft Company, a sixty per cent owned subsidiary in Macon, Georgia, which went into commercial production on July 1, 1948.

After a provision of $3,058,300 for federal and state income taxes and a contribution of $1,257,793 to the Mead retirement plan for employees of the company and its subsidiaries, earnings from operations amounted to $5,013,916 or $6.36 on the common shares as compared with $5,685,384 or $7.33 on the common shares, in 1947.

Increased costs of operations, principally in labor, fuel and freight, resulted in the narrower profit margin.

The report states that while dividends on the common shares have shown moderate increases over the past five years they are still short of providing an adequate return on the money invested in the business for the reason that it has been necessary, following the heavy demands on equipment during the war years, to bring the manufacturing plants to top condition and to replace or expand certain facilities.

The report announced that the company's contribution to the profit-sharing fund of the Mead retirement plan amounted to $1,011,718 which is equal to 10 per cent of the compensation received during the year of all employees participating in the plan. In the two years of the plan the company and subsidiaries have contributed a total of $1,835,998 to the profit-sharing fund.

During the year fifty participating employees retired and are receiving pensions. Seventeen participating employees died during 1948 and their credits in the profit-sharing fund as well as their own contributions were paid to their beneficiaries.

The company had 6,649 shareholders and 7,500 employees as of December 1948.

The report was issued over the names of Sydney Ferguson, chairman, and Charles R. Van de Carr, jr., president.

The annual meeting of the company will be held in Dayton April 26.

LABOR UNIONS HOLD MEETING

Legislation Discussed At

would be a vote of confidence for Governor Williams and a mandate to arouse legislators. "Much legislation," he said, "is being held off until after the election, to determine the general public attitude on measures of increased purchasing power, and referred to the unemployment compensation set-up as the best and most sound economic cushion or shock absorber."

A large rural Republican vote is anticipated in the coming election, Fox said, because many township officers, though running on non-partisan or non-major party names, are known to be Republican and will affect straight voting.

Attorney Fox, advisor to the governor, compared the coming election to a basketball game where one score has been made, and the ball is now under the basket. Democrats must be in there to return the ball to the winning team, he said.

Speaking in a broad, humorous manner, Noel Fox explained how unemployment in a community can cause a downfall not only in the living standards of the unemployed, but in all business in the community. He spoke of decreased purchasing power, and referred to the unemployment compensation set-up as the best and most sound economic cushion or shock absorber.

Labor Cooperation Urged

Cooperation of all labor groups whether C. I. O. or A. F. of L. were keynote by the speakers. James Doran, president of the Escanaba Trades and Labor Council, introduced speakers.

Albert Constantineau, president of the C. I. O. council here, stressed unified labor action in a brief talk at the opening of the meeting, and emphasized that in a small community union amongst labor groups is vitally necessary.

Moreau, a former resident of Escanaba, also stressed inter-union cooperation.

Hirohito's Palace
Is Manless HavenBy O. H. P. KING
(P) Newsfeatures

Tokyo—The American occupation has penetrated or affected almost every place in Japan, but in the inner palace of the emperor and empress more than 300 women live in traditional, unbroken couple.

Some little-known facts about palace life are disclosed in the current issue of the magazine Yominomo Shunju in an article called "Ladies Around the Emperor."

Thirty or more court ladies serve the royal couple, assisted by 300 maid-servants. Except for Emperor Hirohito, NO men are allowed in the inner palace. On occasions when building repairs are necessary, great precautions are taken to keep workers from casual contacts with the palace women.

Follow Tradition

Tradition rigidly governs the women's lives. Practically all are recruited from Kyoto. Candidates are required to perform "the newcomer's dance" completely nude except for a transparent skirt. Purpose of the dance is explained as intended to permit observation of physical fitness for maid duties, but this is said to be unknown to the candidates.

These attendants must be prepared at any time to die for their emperor or empress. In case of earthquake, fire or other calamity they are required to rush to the imperial chamber within three minutes to help protect the royal couple.

The maid's jobs are not easy. They must wash quantities of white silk clothing in cold water and with little soap lest they injure the fabric. They are not fed well, because the head maid-servant profits by economizing on the food allowance.

Training Difficult

Distinctions are sharp between junior and senior maid duties, and the juniors are subject to hazing by the seniors during their training period.

Maid-servants are worn out within a few weeks, because in helping the court ladies to dress they must remain on their knees.

Kyoto girls nevertheless are eager for places on the palace staff in a manless world.

Incidentally, the magazine discloses, the emperor never bathes in complete nudity. He enters the tub in a white silk bathrobe, after which a court lady pours hot water down his back. He must scrub himself, for nobody is allowed to touch the emperor.

Sweet and sour red cabbage makes an excellent accompaniment for baked, broiled or fried fish. Use lemon juice or cider vinegar for the "sour" taste and try brown sugar for the "sweet."

Bridge Hostess' Problem Solved By Scientists

By ROBERT E. GEIGER
Memphis, Tenn., March 30 (AP)—Science made a grand slam for the bridge hostess today.

It announced how to serve salted nuts, and even potato chips, at the bridge table so the guests won't get the cards and themselves all greasy.

The scientists simply lacquered the nuts with a salty lacquer, instead of dipping them in oil. This lacquer is made from pectin, found in fruit.

Pectin contains both salt and oil but dries into a brittle coating.

It gives them a nut a slick, attractive surface. And it comes in all colors to match the hostess' finger nails or her eyes.

The new nuts were passed around by scientists of the Bureau of Chemistry, U. S. Department of Agriculture, who thought up the new lacquer idea.

They said they don't play bridge themselves, but their wives told them about the greasy card problem.

The job of these scientists is to think up new ways to make farm products more valuable. They reported on the nut idea at a meeting of the National Farm Chemistry Council, which is also interested in finding new uses for farm products—like the pectin from fruit.

The new greaseless nut is expected to be popular with persons who would munch more salted nuts if they didn't get their clothes and faces so greasy.

The greaseless potato chip, designed for a great future at the cocktail party, is possible because of a new method of processing potatoes.

How It's Done

First, part of the moisture is removed from the potato. Then it is frozen. When it is sliced and cooked, it absorbs less grease.

This hits the jackpot in at least three ways:

1. With part of the moisture removed, the potatoes weigh less. Shipping charges are reduced.

2. The frozen potatoes keep much better than unfrozen. The quality will be as good in the spring as it is a few days after the fall harvest.

3. It takes less grease to make chips of these potatoes. The grease is a costly item in chip manufacture—so the manufacturer will save money.

And the cocktail guest saves on his dry cleaning bills.

Hirohito's Palace
Is Manless HavenBy O. H. P. KING
(AP) Newsfeatures

Tokyo—The American occupation has penetrated or affected almost every place in Japan, but in the inner palace of the emperor and empress more than 300 women live in traditional, unbroken seclusion.

Some little-known facts about palace life are disclosed in the current issue of the magazine Yominono Shunju in an article called "Ladies Around the Emperor."

Thirty or more court ladies serve the royal couple, assisted by 300 maidservants. Except for Emperor Hirohito, NO men are allowed in the inner palace. On occasions when building repairs are necessary, great precautions are taken to keep workers from casual contacts with the palace women.

Follow Tradition

Tradition rigidly governs the women's lives. Practically all are recruited from Kyoto. Candidates are required to perform "the newcomer's dance" completely nude except for a transparent skirt. Purpose of the dance is explained as intended to permit observation of physical fitness for maid duties, but this is said to be unknown to the candidates.

These attendants must be prepared at any time to die for their emperor or empress. In case of earthquake, fire or other calamity they are required to rush to the imperial chamber within three minutes to help protect the royal couple.

The maid's jobs are not easy. They must wash quantities of white silk clothing in cold water and with little soap lest they injure the fabric. They are not fed well, because the head maid receives profits by economizing on the food allowance.

Training Difficult

Distinctions are sharp between junior and senior maid duties, and the juniors are subject to hazing by the seniors during their training period.

Maids skirts are worn out within a few weeks, because in helping the court ladies to dress they must remain on their knees.

Kyoto girls nevertheless are eager for places on the palace staff in a manless world.

Incidentally, the magazine discloses, the emperor never bathes in complete nudity. He enters the tub in a white silk bathrobe, after which a court lady pours hot water down his back. He must scrub himself, for nobody is allowed to touch the emperor.

COURT SESSION STARTS APRIL 11

Two Interesting Cases On Calendar

In the coming term of Schoolcraft county circuit court, which convenes here on the afternoon of Monday, April 11, two cases among the long list docketed for trial have headline possibilities.

Benjamin A. Joslin, who four years ago pleaded guilty before Judge Herbert Runnels to a charge of assault with intent to commit a robbery, has filed through his attorney a motion for a review of his case.

The youth, who was sixteen years of age when he and his brother thumbed a ride from Mrs. Katherine Beal, of Gulliver, and attempted to rob her, threatening her with a home made firearm made from a .22 rifle. In the attempted robbery, Mrs. Beal was slugged, but not seriously hurt.

Joslin is in the penitentiary at Jackson.

County Jail Threatened

The other case showing far-reaching possibilities is the case filed by the Michigan Commissioner of State Police against Schoolcraft county, petitioning the county to show cause why the Schoolcraft county jail should not be closed.

The jail was condemned several months ago as being unfit for the purpose it serves by reason of its being a fire trap. This order, it is expected, will bring to a head the order for its closing.

Other cases on the docket include two other criminal cases—State vs. Albert Kaiser and Lloyd Fragale, who pleaded guilty to defrauding the county in the last term of court but whose status is still subject to the ruling of the court.

State vs. A. J. Markham, bad checks.

Civil Cases

Burnette Sewell vs. Hiawatha Metal Products company, petition for recovery.

Earl Sader vs. Henry Schenber, assumpst.

Manistique Tool and Manufacturing Company vs. Heltman Thompson, recovery on note.

Art V. Gillespie vs. Joseph Holoholik, Ernest Holoholik, Raoul Bertran, motion for security for costs. Action arising out of a motor mishap.

Liberty Loan vs. John Spielmacher, motion for new trial.

Linen Thread Company vs. Allen Jensen, assumpst.

Carl Larson vs. John Kepsel, representing Bismarck Used Car Lot, assumpst.

Gerald F. Thomas vs. William Lundberg, motion for security of costs.

Arvid Nelson vs. Lloyd Fragale, assumpst, appeal from justice court.

Lorraine Spencer vs. Cliff Lambert and Lloyd Vandewall, action arising out of a car accident.

Chancery Cases

Betsy O. Johnson, et al. vs. Gottfried S. Johnson.

Arthur H. Kopitz vs. Leon LaPorte.

Delinquent tax sale for year 1946 and previous years.

Six divorce actions.

Co. Agent Speaks For Milk Measure

The restrictive clause to be voted on by the citizens of Manistique in the coming spring election—a measure which would restrict the retail sale of milk in the city to that which is processed within 15 miles of the city—was defended by County Agent Clayton Reid, in a short talk before the Manistique Rotary club Monday noon.

Reid defended the proposal on the ground that the local milk industry should be protected. The two processing plants in the city, he said, represent a combined investment of $46,000 in plants and equipment; they employ 21 people, representing $32,000 in salaries; they use 13 trucks; they pay $302,000 to the farmers for their product each year.

He produced the latest inspectors report which showed the butterfat percentage to be satisfactory.

The personnel of Manistique high school band, 64 strong, will participate in the Upper Peninsula Band Festival at Marquette Saturday.

This is an annual affair in which high school bands from all over Upper Michigan will take part and Manistique has been assigned its part on the program at 10:30 when it will present two numbers, the march, "Hall of Fame," and "Peasant March Overture," both by Oliviodotti.

The festival, which will be an all day and evening affair, will be held at the auditorium of the Northern State Teachers College, the morning and afternoon part being devoted to presentation of numbers by the various bands and the evening to a concert by a massed band of selected students.

Local students who will play in the massed band are: Donald Jim Foye, Edith Christpherson, Shirley Anderson, Mary Stevens, Dan VanEyck, Evelyn Anderson, Gladys Strassler and Mert LaBarr.

The festival is not in any sense a contest between the schools, but each school will be judged on its merits by a band expert from the Duluth division of the University of Minnesota.

Gladstone Redshirts Keep County Dart Championship

Beat Press
In Finals,
15-5, 7-4

The Gladstone Redshirts successfully defended their Delta county dart ball championship in the second annual tournament concluded at the Escanaba recreation center last night.

The Redshirts defeated the Escanaba Firemen, 11-4 and 5-4, in the semifinals and the Daily Press Compositors, 15-5 and 7-4, in the championship finals.

Press Compositors moved into the finals last night with 7-1, 4-3 triumph over the Eagles. In contrast to first and second round matches Monday night, many of which went the full limit, the semifinal and final matches were all two-game affairs.

Members of the championship Redshirt team are Charles Anderson, Henry Martinson, George Pada, Adolph Johnson, John Nelson, Eric Lindahl, Joseph Moreau, Glen Nelson and Hilding Martinson.

Members of the runnerup Press Compositor team are Vince Eade, Walt and Harold Carlson, Orten Degenette, Louis Auger, Wilbur Whitburn, Roy Goldberg, Charles Perryman, John McCarthy and Dick Thurston.

Championship and runnerup trophies were awarded by George Grenholm, Escanaba recreation director and manager of the tournament.

"The tournament attracted a great amount of interest this year more than last year," Grenholm said. "Because of the great interest in the game, we will plan to hold the county meet in the larger junior high school gym next season."

Only Bonus Players Signed After March 31 Can Be Optioned

Cincinnati, March 30. (P)—Opting of bonus players during their first year will apply only to those signed after March 31, says Walter Mulbry, secretary-treasurer of baseball.

He explained the bonus rule change yesterday after the impression got around that the current crop of bonus players could be farmed out for a year if they had not already played a season of professional ball.

A man is tagged as a bonus player if he is paid $6,000 or more to sign a contract. Under the old rule, he could not be sent down for more experience.

"They would have to be signed on or after April 1 to be eligible for option," Mulbry said.

The new rule also provides that if a team which signs a bonus player seeks waivers on him, the club claiming the player also may option him out for the year.

Baseball men expressed belief, however, it seemed unlikely a team which signed a bonus player would ask waivers on him at least until after it had used up the year of minor league experience.

Spartans Split With South Carolina Nine

Chapel Hill, N. C., March 30. (P)—Michigan State's baseball team opened a two-day stand against North Carolina here today after splitting a doubleheader with neighboring South Carolina yesterday.

The Spartans dropped the opener 7-3 but came back to take the nightcap 5-3.

Sophomore Righthander Charles "Buz" Bowers went to the mound in the sixth inning of the second game and faced only six men in two innings to be credited with the win.

The Spartans play North Carolina State at Raleigh April 1 to wind up their spring tour.

Curtain Up Today In Pacific Coast Baseball League

San Francisco, March 30. (P)—The Pacific coast league opens the nation's baseball season today.

Observers favor Seattle as the team to beat, with the sharpest contention expected to come from Oakland and Bucky Harris' San Diego club.

SEDLIA GETS STAKES

Sedalia, Mo., (P)—The rich Trotting Horse Club of America stakes for two and three year old trotters and pacers have been awarded to the track here, a newcomer to the grand circuit in 1949. The stakes were raised in former years at Milwaukee which has dropped from the major league of harness racing this year.

TWO TRIPERS
New York, (P)—Two sprinters have won the IC4A 60-yard dash three times. James Daley of Holy Cross turned the trick in 1928-29-30, while Columbia's Ben Johnson led the field in 1935-37-38. Johnson is co-holder of the meet's dash record of 6.2 seconds with several runners.

WOEFUL WHITE SOX
Tucson, Ariz., (P)—The Chicago White Sox are letting their opponents win in a walk. The record books show that the Sox' woeful pitching corps has yielded 93 free base tickets in 17 games, 10 of which the Chicagoans lost.

Luther Scarborough, former Fort Worth schoolboy basketball star, is captain of the 1949 University of Texas freshman team.

ESCANABA DAILY PRESS SPORTS "It Seems To Me"

BY JIM WARD

Off the cuff: If the Detroit Red Wings' capable goalie, Harry Lumley, should ever hit the skids, the Wings shouldn't have too great cause for worry . . . Terry Sawchuck, 19-year-old Indianapolis goalie who recently won rookie of the year honors for the second straight season, is the property of the Wings . . . With Omaha in the United States league last season, Sawchuck was named rookie of the year . . . With Indianapolis in the American Hockey league this year, he did it again . . . It was his first year in professional ranks . . . The U. S. league is considered amateur.

Ari Holmgren, of Ensign No. 2 dartball team, was the only player to hit a home run in opening matches of the Delta county dartball tournament . . . Deadline for entry in the U. P. dartball meet in Manistique, incidentally, is Wednesday, April 6, and the tourney will be held Saturday, April 9.

When the Manistique Merchants came from behind to beat Escanaba VFW Saturday night, 71-69, Dick Berger, Manistique, bested Escanaba's Jack Flinn for top scoring honors, 26 to 24 . . . Jerome Deloria will have plenty of outside competitors in the Escanaba area Silver Gloves show next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday at the St. Joseph's auditorium . . . Leo Legacy, Marinette'sistic impresario, will bring 15 boys here for the fights . . . And 18 young scrappers from Perronville will be on the card.

Directors of the Little River Golf club in Marinette, Wis., intend to make the "best 18-hole golf course north of Milwaukee." That would be in Wisconsin because Upper Michigan is still without an 18-hole golf course, although it has many beautiful and excellent nine-hole tests.

In case you're wondering why the Gladstone Redshirts are the Delta county dartball champions for the second successive year, you might be interested in knowing that they averaged 10 runs a game for nine games throughout the current tournament.

Most of the time, they use the "push 'em around" technique . . . That involves trying to fill the bases by firing at the big first base target and then "pushing 'em around" until there are one or two out and then going for the smaller third base target to clear the board or score three runs . . . That's how they get those big scores.

Charlie Robinson, in whose heart the spirit of competition burns bright, is organizing an all-star Escanaba team to challenge the Redshirts to a special match . . . He hopes to arrange a home-and-home series to take on the champs, and he's looking forward to the U. P. meet in Manistique Saturday, April 9.

Eddie Mayo Bows Out The Way He Wanted To, As Minor Loop Manager

Lakeland, Fla., March 30 (P)—Pepper Eddie Mayo, approaching his 36th birthday together with the end of the trail as a major league infielder, is bowing out of the big leagues just as he wanted to—as a minor league manager.

The veteran of nine years in the majors, with four different clubs, will be a playing manager for Detroit's Toledo farm club in the American Association in 1949.

There he will take over from Harry (Nemo) Leibold, another former Tiger, who put the Mud Hens through their first spring training drills but had to give up his managerial post because of illness. Leibold has been ordered by physicians to return to his home in Detroit for a physical check-up.

Mayo, whose advanced years put his baseball future as a player squarely on the spot this spring, has been working out here with the Tigers since March 7.

He shifts immediately to nearby Bartow to take the reins of the Detroit-owned Toledo club and will undoubtedly manage the club from playing post at third base.

Although Mayo has been a second baseman at Detroit since he joined the Tigers in 1944, third base is his position. That's where he played for 12 of his 17 years in organized baseball and that's the job he likes best.

The Tiger management recognized that fact, and apparently associated it with the Toledo situation when he was played at third base for his workouts with the Tigers this spring.

Detroit Manager Red Rolfe never considered the Clifton, N. J., veteran in his efforts to fill the Tigers' gaping hole at second base. Perhaps that's because Mayo, who has slowed down considerably in the last couple of years, will reach his 36th birthday April 15.

Some $60,000 in early closing events are scheduled for the week of competition, including a $5,000 event for two-year-old trotters.

WOEFUL WHITE SOX

Chicago Cub Optimism Runs High These Days

By BOB MYERS
AP Newsreels

Los Angeles—Optimism around the Chicago Cub camp is flying sky high this spring, in contrast to 1948.

Last year's pessimism was well founded, because the Cubs wound up deep in the cellar, 27½ games behind the pennant winning Boston Braves.

Manager Charlie Grimm looks for a vast improvement and, in a fit of fancy, says his 1949 Bruins might even edge into the first division.

He is pretty well pleased with his infield. He thinks it will be stronger. He likes his outfield and his catching is strong.

Improved pitching prospects are the main reason for the renewed optimism.

Williams, Gavilan Bout Poses Tough Job For Officials

New York, March 30 (P)—Eddie Eagan, chairman of the State Athletic commission, thumbed through his files today in search of three "Solomons."

He's going to need three officials with something close to the Biblical monarch's wisdom plus strong sets of nerves to wisdom Friday's ten round, non-title bout between lightweight champion Ike Williams and welter contender Kid Gavilan in Madison Square Garden.

The stir created by Eagan's indefinite suspension of two officials following the Jake LaMotta-Robert Villemain fray last Friday, has focused attention on the thorny problem that will be handed ed to the three arbiters this week.

They will be asked to decide between two batters with contrasting styles who have fought two of the closest fights in recent years.

Williams won the first one in Feb. 1948. The flashy Cuban evened the count last Jan. 28.

All three officials voted for sharp-punching Ike in the initial contest but by as narrow an edge as you can make it, 5-4-1, 5-4-1 and 6-4.

Then the return, the busy, wide-swinging Cuban received 5-4-1 verdicts from the two judges to give him the edge although Referee Ruby Goldstein cast his ballot for a 4-4-2 draw.

Goldstein, who ruled for Jersey Joe Walcott in his first try against Joe Louis, also refereed the first Williams-Gavilan bout. If precedent is followed, the popular, competent ex-fighter won't be employed for the "rubber" contest.

The total votes of all officials for the two tussles, adds up to 28 rounds for Williams, 26 for Gavilan and six even.

Senators Shell Gray, Tigers in 7-2 Game

Sarasota, Fla., March 30, (P)—Freddie Hutchinson goes to the firing line for the Detroit Tigers today against the Boston Red Sox and the serious righthander trusts he won't be treated as badly as the Washington Senators handled southpaw Ted Gray.

Gray, who had looked good in his last two starts, started against the Senators yesterday in Lakeland and was shelled for six runs and 10 hits in four innings, losing 7 to 2.

The Nats, meanwhile, got stable six-hit hurling from the veteran Rae Scarborough and rookie righthander Paul Calvert and coasted to their second straight win over Detroit after jamming six runs across the plate in the first three frames.

Not As Much Baseball Talent Coming Up As You Might Think, Fullerton Says

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, March 30 (P)—If you look over one of those farm club training camps—Dodgertown, for instance—you might think there's an endless supply of baseball material . . . but a correspondent who knows how tough things can be down in Class "D" baseball sends this complaint: "It seems to me some scouts send in any boy they can sign to a contract. For instance, one club in our league had about 70 players during the last season. You can't win ball games unless your team jells. The point is they send in one young player after another and the one they sent in usually was inferior to the boy he replaced. Where they dug 'em up is a mystery, but the greater mystery is why they'd sign 'em." . . . Just to show there's another side to the same problem, a baseball scout notes: "had to hurry back from Florida to start trailing the colleges. You know college schedules are short and we have to move fast in the spring." . . . Maybe it's something wrong with the scouting system, not the scouts.

Swedish Unionists Visit in Ironwood

Ironwood, Mich.—Twelve Swedish trade union leaders were in Ironwood this afternoon to inspect the Roddis Lumber and Veneer company's mill here as part of a nationwide tour they are making of industrial and manufacturing plants.

They are in the United States at the invitation of the Economic Co-operation Administration, the administrative organization of the Marshall Plan. Traveling in four cars, the group arrived here from Wausau this noon and was scheduled to leave for the Mesabi range late this afternoon.

Conducting the group on its tour of Wisconsin and the Upper Peninsula are four representatives of the American Federation of Labor's regional office in Milwaukee. Herbert Verner, Charles Heymanns, Leon DeBoux, and Maurice E. Weinberg.

Although the cause of sunspots is unknown, they are known to consist of conical "tornadoes" which are sometimes 20,000 miles high.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich.—City Manager Gilbert Peterman has been notified by the Great Lakes Towing Company that not only the historic Johnston home, but a plot of ground to go with it, is available to the city of Sault Ste. Marie.

A copy of the letter in which the offer was made was also sent to Fred Rodiger of the Sault Machine and Auto Company, who has been interested in the preservation of the Johnston home and who has written in behalf of its preservation to the Great Lakes firm.

Two electricians will be assigned to the task of locating causes of radio disturbance, working from one p. m. to nine p. m. daily. Residents of the community are asked to notify the service department, 1734, when radio disturbances are discovered.

The cooperation of householders is being sought not only in reporting radio noises but also in eliminating them. Disturbances caused by electric motors will require filters, which appliance owners will have to install and pay for.

Portable radio sets are used to track down the causes of disturbances.

Crusade Is Planned By City Electricians

The city electric department will intensify its crusade for elimination of radio interference, beginning next week, Hugo Lillquist, superintendent, reported this morning.
